NURTURE PROTECT ENGAGE

Listening, understanding and consulting to create your perfect-fit solution

The provision of employee benefit services is one of our key areas of expertise. We advise organisations across industry sectors ranging from the owner-managed to multinational corporations. Our success stems from our approach, which begins with ensuring we have a clear and comprehensive picture of your business objectives, aspirations and constraints.

By taking the time to understand where you are and where you want to be, we add insight and empathy to our expertise. We then create the optimum solution for your circumstances, making sure everything fits around the way you work. We distil complexity into simplicity. Your employees are engaged, understand exactly what you are providing and appreciate the value of their remuneration packages.

Employee Wealthcare

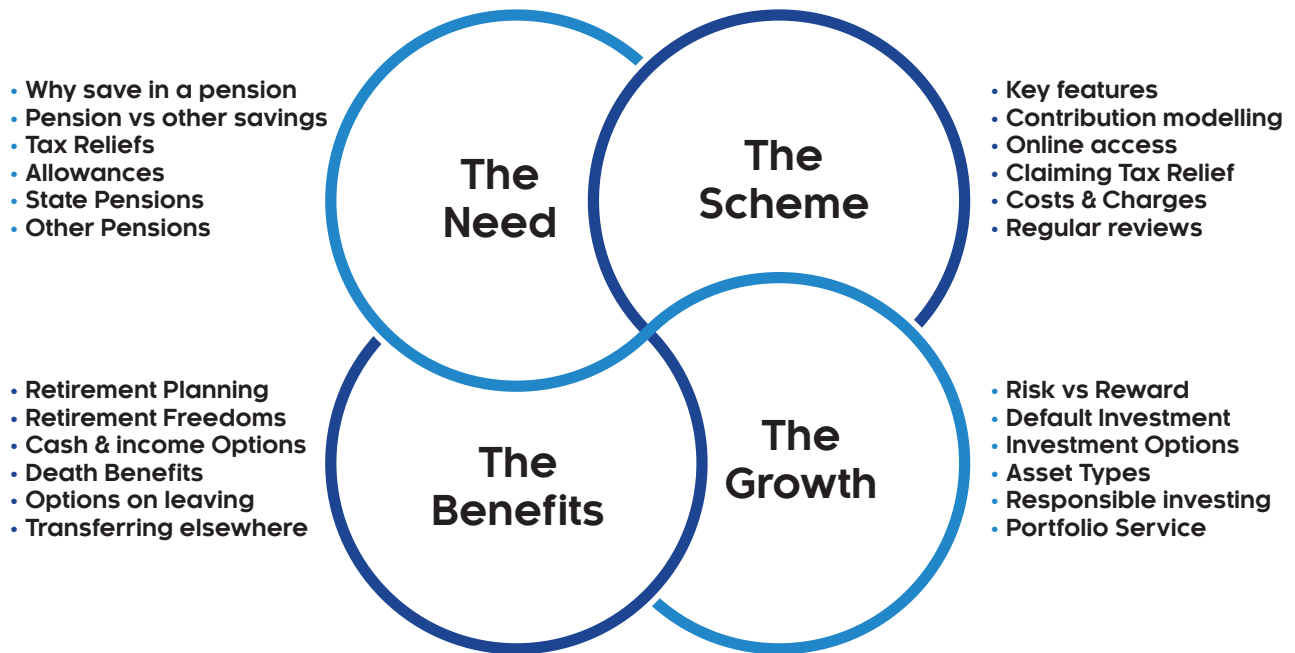

In most employee benefits programmes, financial well-being is rarely seen as being as important as physical or mental wellness. We take a different view. Protecting and reassuring your employees and their loved ones is still key, but our Employee Wealthcare gives your employees the knowledge to cope with their ever-changing financial landscape. From managing the effect of student debt for a new employee, to sifting through the myriad of pension freedom options for an imminent retiree, we clarify complexity and provide a clear way forward.

Workplace Pensions

Unprecedented changes to the UK pension landscape have significantly increased the responsibilities of employers to implement all the relevant legislative requirements. When you also have to cope with accounting, personnel and reporting requirements, you need access to reliable and accurate technical advice and support.

Given the possibility of further legislative changes, our experienced team of qualified pension experts and dedicated administrators not only relieve the pressures of compliance, but also ensure that you have the most beneficial arrangements in place for your business and your people.

Tailored pension advice for your employees

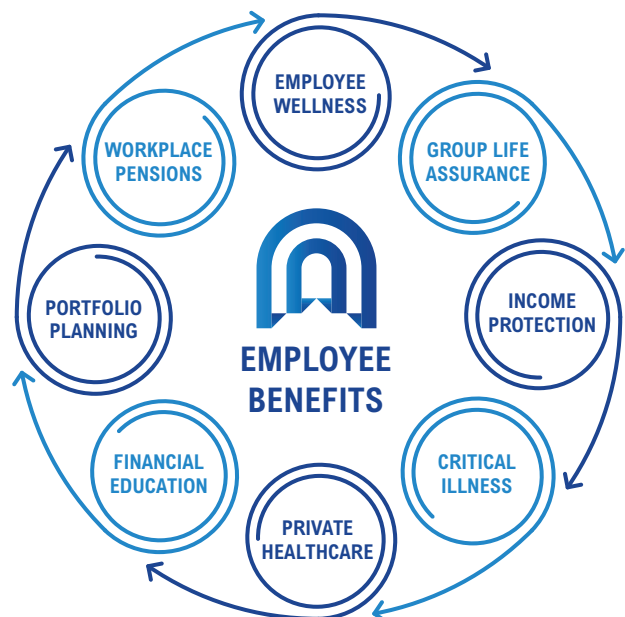

Nurturing, protecting and engaging

We appreciate how vital it is for businesses to be able to recruit, retain and protect the right people. In today's evolving and complex employee benefit landscape, you need the understanding expertise and flexible approach that keeps your people motivated, helps your business thrive and gives you the time to focus on what you do best.

By designing the benefit schemes that protect your business and deliver maximum value for your budget while optimising employee engagement in their own physical, mental and financial well-being, we can help you become the employer of choice for valued existing and future employees..
